(c) The District Lot Owners may call a special meeting within forty-five (45) days of the meeting providing the proposed Budget to vote to disapprove the Budget, although to set it aside and to reject a proposed Budget requires the affirmative written consent of at least a majority of total ownership. If the new budget is disapproved, then the prior year's budget continues.

7.2 Independent Duty to Pay District Assessments. Each Owner, by the acceptance of a deed therefore, whether or not it be so expressed in the deed, hereby covenants and agrees with each other and with the District Association to pay his share of the District Expenses and other fees as provided in the District Governing Documents.

7.3 Developer Exemption. The Developer is not required to pay District Assessments on District Lots owned by him until the property is sold or sixty (60) days after a final certificate of occupancy is issued, whichever first occurs.

7.4 Basis for Annual District Assessments. The total Annual District Assessments against all District Lots shall be based upon advance estimates of cash requirements by the District Board of Directors to provide for the management of the District Association and the maintenance, repair and replacement of physical improvements unique and common to the District.

7.5 Apportionment. District Expenses shall be apportioned among all District Lots equally.

7.6 Notice of Annual District Assessments. Annual District Assessments shall be made on a calendar year basis. The District Board of Directors shall give written notice of each Annual District Assessment with respect to an District Lot not less than thirty (30) days nor more than sixty (60) days prior to the beginning of the next calendar year. The first Annual District Assessment shall be for the balance of the calendar year remaining after the date fixed by the District Board of Directors. Each Annual District Assessment shall be due and payable in monthly installments on the first day of each and every month and no separate notices of such monthly installment shall be required. Each monthly District Assessment shall bear interest at the rate of eighteen (18) percent per annum from the date it becomes due and payable if not paid within thirty (30) days after such date.

7.7 Special District Assessments. In addition to Annual District Assessments, the District Board of Directors may levy in any District Assessment year a Special District Assessment, payable over such a period as the District Board of Directors may determine, for the purpose of defraying, in whole or in part, the cost of any construction or reconstruction, unexpected repair or replacement of the District Property or any part thereof, or for any other expense incurred or to be incurred as provided in this District Declaration. This paragraph shall not be construed as an independent source of authority for the District Board of Directors to incur expenses, but shall be construed to prescribe the manner of assessing for expenses authorized by other paragraphs of this District Declaration. Any amounts assessed pursuant hereto shall be assessed to the Owners in proportion to their respective undivided interest in District Common Areas. Notice in writing of the amount of such Special District Assessments and the time for their payment shall be given promptly to the Owners. Payment shall be due on the dates and in the manner provided in the notice. Any Special District Assessment or part thereof shall bear interest at the rate of eighteen (18) percent per annum from the date it becomes due and payable if not paid within thirty (30) days after such date.

7.8 Lien Rights. All sums assessed to any District Lot pursuant to this section, together with interest thereon as provided herein shall be secured by a lien on such District Lot in favor of the District Association. Such lien shall have such priorities as established by law.

7.9 Notice of Lien. To establish a lien for any unpaid District Assessment, the District Board of Directors shall prepare a written notice of lien as set forth by statute. No notice of lien shall be recorded until there is a delinquency in payment of the District Assessment. Such lien may be enforced by judicial or non-judicial foreclosure by the District Board of Directors as provided by law. The lien shall also secure, and the Owner shall also be required to pay to the District Board of Directors any District Assessments against the District Lot which shall become due during the period of foreclosure sale or other legal sale. The District Board of Directors may bid on the District Lot at foreclosure or other sale and may acquire, hold, convey, lease, rent, encumber, use and otherwise deal with the same as the Owner thereof.

7.10 Release of Lien. A release of lien shall be executed by the District Board of Directors and recorded in the office of the County Recorder of Washington County, Utah, upon payment of all sums secured by a lien which has been made the subject of a recorded notice of lien.

7.11 Rights of Other Lienholders. An encumbrancer holding a lien on an District Lot may pay, but shall not be required to pay, any amounts secured by the lien created by this Section, and upon such payment such encumbrancer shall be subrogated to all rights of the District Board of Directors with respect to such lien, including priority.

7.12 Personal Obligation of Owner. The amount of any Annual or Special District Assessment against any District Lot shall be the personal obligation of the Owner thereof to the District Association. Suit to recover a judgment of such personal obligation shall be maintainable by the District Board of Directors without foreclosing or waiving the lien securing the same. No Owner may void or diminish any personal obligation by waiver of the use and enjoyment of any of the District Common Areas or by abandonment of an District Lot.

7.13 Statement of District Assessments Due. Upon payment of a reasonable fee not to exceed ten dollars ($10) and upon written request of any Owner, or any District Mortgagee, prospective District Mortgagee or prospective purchaser of an District Lot, the District Board of Directors shall issue a written statement setting forth the amount of unpaid District Assessments, if any, with respect to such District Lot; the amount of the current yearly District Assessment and the portion thereof which has theretofore been paid; and credit for advanced payments or prepaid items. Such statement shall be conclusive upon the District Board of Directors in favor of persons who rely thereon in good faith. Unless such request for a statement of account shall be complied with within ten (10) days, all unpaid District Assessments which become due prior to the making of such request shall be subordinate to the lien of a District Mortgagee which acquired its interest subsequent to requesting such statement. Where a prospective purchaser makes such a request, both the lien and unpaid District Assessments and the personal obligations of the purchaser shall be released automatically if the statement is not furnished within ten (10) days, and that purchaser subsequently acquires the District Lot.

7.14 Liability of Buyers and Sellers. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (m), a purchaser of an District Lot shall be jointly and severally liable with the seller for all unpaid District Assessments against the District Lot up to the time of the conveyance, without prejudice to the purchaser's right to recover from the seller the amount paid by the purchaser for such District Assessments.

7.15 Right to Suspend Privilege to Use Recreational Amenities or Voting Rights, and Assignment of Rents. In accordance with the terms and requirements of the Utah Condominium Ownership Act, U.C.A. Section 57-8-20 (2003), as amended and supplemented, the District Board of Directors may elect to (a) terminate utilities and the right to use amenities for non-payment of District Assessments and/or (b) collect rents directly from a renter if the District Lot Owner who is renting the District Lot fails to pay any District Assessment for a period of more than 60 days after it is due and payable,

7.16 Foreclosures and Past Due Accounts. Anything to the contrary notwithstanding, any District First Mortgagee who obtains title to a District Lot pursuant to the remedies in the District Mortgage or trust deed or through foreclosure will not be liable for more than six (6) months of the unpaid regularly budgeted District Assessments, dues or charges accrued before acquisition of the title to the property by the District Mortgage, although the District First Mortgagee will also be liable for any reasonable attorneys fees or costs related to the collection of the unpaid dues. All other grantees who obtain title to a District Lot in a voluntary conveyance or pursuant to the remedies in a District Mortgage or trust deed or through foreclosure shall be jointly and severally liable with the trustor or mortgagor for all unpaid District Assessments, late fees, default interest and collection costs, including a reasonable attorneys fee, against the District Lot for its share of the District Expenses up to the time of the grant or conveyance, without prejudice to the grantee's rights to recover from the trustor or mortgagor the amounts paid by the grantee.

7.17 Reinvestment Fee. The District Association may charge a Reinvestment Fee unless prohibited by statute.

7.18 Reserve Analysis and Reserve Fund.

(a) As used in this section, the term "reserve analysis" means an analysis to determine: (i) the need for a reserve fund to accumulate money to cover the cost of repairing, replacing, and restoring common areas and facilities that have a useful life of three years or more, but excluding any cost that can reasonably be funded from the general budget or other funds of the District Association; and (ii) the appropriate amount of any reserve fund.

(b) After the expiration of the Declarant's Period of Control, the District Board of Directors shall cause a reserve analysis to be conducted no less frequently than required by statute; and review and, if necessary, update a previously conducted reserve analysis no less frequently than required by statute.

(c) The District Board of Directors may conduct a reserve analysis itself or may engage a reliable person or organization, as determined by the District Board of Directors, to conduct the reserve analysis.

(d) The District Board of Directors may not use money in a reserve fund: (i) for daily maintenance expenses, unless a majority of the members of the District Association vote to approve the use of reserve fund money for that purpose; or (ii) for any purpose other than the purpose for which the reserve fund was established.

(e) The District Board of Directors shall maintain a reserve fund separate from other funds of the District Association.

(f) This Subsection (4) may not be construed to limit the District Board of Directors from prudently investing money in a reserve fund provided it is government insured.

(g) The District Association shall: (a) annually, at the annual meeting of the District Association or at a special meeting of the District Association: (i) present the reserve study; and (ii) provide an opportunity for Unit Owners to discuss reserves and to vote on whether to fund a reserve fund and, if so, how to fund it and in what amount; (b) prepare and keep minutes of each meeting so held and indicate in the minutes any decision relating to funding a reserve fund; provided, however, and anything to the contrary notwithstanding, the District Association shall fund and maintain a reserve account sufficient to satisfy the requirements for certification by the US Department of Housing and Urban Development.¹

(h) The District Directors are responsible to present to the District Lot Owners each year the amount of money that should be deposited into the reserve account each year to properly or adequately satisfy the recommendations of the plan for deferred maintenance adopted, based, at least in part, on the Reserve Study. The contents of the Reserve Study shall be comprehensive, complete and accurate, and must address not only the systems, equipment and facilities but the components effectively. The District Directors shall provide a summary of the most recent Reserve Study to the all Owners each year, even if they do not attend the annual meeting. The full Reserve Study (and any updates) must be made available to the District Lot Owners upon request. The District Association must now include a specific Reserve Fund line item in its annual budget. The District Board of Director must establish the amount of the Reserve Fund line item; and set forth the steps for the District Lot Owners to veto the Board's Reserve Fund line item in accordance with the statutory requirements.

(i) Anything to the contrary notwithstanding, this subsection (i) does not apply to an District Association during the District Declarant's Period of Control.

8. Nightly Rental of Units .

¹ Currently HUD requires a 10% reserve fund and a 10% contribution from annual assessments as they accrue.
Casitas at Sienna Hills District Declaration and Bylaws

8.1 Nightly Rental of Units to a third party by the owner of the Unit

(a.) Subject to the rules and regulations as adopted by the District Directors and subject to the ordinances of Washington City, the owners of any of the units within the development shall have the privilege to rent their units to a third party for a period of 1 to 30 days.

(b.) The District Directors may exercise their rightful duties as outlined in the District bylaws to govern, regulate, monitor and revoke an owners privilege to enter into third party nightly rentals.

9. Insurance.

9.1 Property and Liability Insurance Required.

(a) The District Association must maintain, to the extent reasonably available, property insurance on physical structures of all attached Dwelling Units, Limited Common Area and Common Area.

(b) The District Association must maintain to the extent reasonably available adequate Liability Insurance for the District Common Areas and Facilities.

(c) If property or liability insurance is not available, then the Association must notify Owners within seven (7) days.

(d) The District Association may but is not required to carry other types of insurance.

(e) A District Lot Owner's act or omission may not void a policy.

9.2 Property Insurance. The Property Insurance, which shall include all District Common Areas and Facilities, must be provided by blanket coverage (as opposed to a schedule listing each building separately) and may not be less than 100% of the full replacement cost, which must be reviewed at each renewal.

(a) The Property Insurance shall include coverage for any and all fixtures, improvements, or betterments installed by a District Lot Owner, floor coverings, cabinets, heating and plumbing fixtures, paint, wall coverings, windows, and any item permanently attached to a Dwelling Unit.

(b) The District Association is not required to insure a Dwelling Unit if the Dwelling Unit is not physically attached to another Dwelling Unit.

(c) When the District Association has a master policy of Property Insurance and the District Lot Owner also has Property Insurance, the District Association's insurance shall be considered primary; provided, however, the Owner's insurance applies and the Owner's insurance policy is considered the primary coverage up to the amount of the master policy deductible. If the District Lot Owner has no insurance, the he or she is personally responsible for the loss up to the amount of the deductible.

(d) A District Lot Owner who suffers a loss and makes a claim on the District Association's Property insurance policy is responsible for payment of the District Association's deductible; provided, however, if two (2) or more District Lot Owners suffer loss in a single event, they are each responsible for payment of a portion of the District Association's deductible based on the percentage of the loss they each suffered. The deductible, which an District Lot Owner is required to pay, applies to the claim on both the Dwelling Unit and any appurtenant Limited Common Area; that is, only one deductible applies.

(e) If a District Lot Owner does not pay his or her share of the loss, the District Association may levy a District Assessment against the District Lot Owner and his or her Dwelling Unit in a sum equal to his or her share of the loss.

(f) The District Association must set aside in escrow an amount equal to the amount of the master policy deductible or $10,000 (unless by statute a higher amount is required in which event the statutory requirement shall govern and control), whichever is less.

(g) The District Association must give notice to all District Lot Owners of their obligation to pay the District Association's deductible. The District Association shall also give notice of any change in the amount of the deductible. If the District Board of Directors does not provide the required notice of an increase in the amount of the deductible on the District Association's Property insurance, then the District Association is only liable for the amount of the undisclosed increase in the deductible if the District Lot Owner does not have adequate coverage for the full deductible.

(h) The District Association is not required to submit a claim to the District Association's insurance carrier if the District Board of Directors determines that the amount of the claim is likely not to exceed the amount of the District Association's insurance deductible.

(i) The insurer for the master policy shall adjust with the Association a loss covered under the association's policy.

(j) The District Association receives insurance payments in trust for the owners and insurance proceeds received by the District Association must first be disbursed for the repair or restoration of the damaged property.

9.3 Liability Insurance. The District Association shall obtain a public liability policy covering the District Common Area and Facilities, sewer laterals, including the backup of sewer laterals, the District Association and its members for all damage or injury caused by the negligence of the District Association or any of its members or agents. The public liability policy shall have coverage limits common to this area for this kind of project in the opinion of an independent insurance agent but not less than a One Million ($1,000,000) Dollar single person limit as respects bodily injury and property damage, a Two Million ($2,000,000) Dollar limit per occurrence, if reasonably available, and a One Million ($1,000,000) Dollar minimum property damage limit. If possible, the policy should be written on the comprehensive form and shall include non-owned and hired automobile liability protection. The District Association may insure for more than this but not less. Each District Lot Owner is an insured person under the District Association's liability policy that insures an owner's interest against liability arising from the District Common Area or membership in the District Association.

9.4 Damage to a Portion of the Project- Insurance Proceeds. Repairs must be done within a reasonable amount of time. If the associated expenses to repair are in excess of the insurance proceeds, such costs will be considered a District Common Expense.

9.5 Miscellaneous.

(a) The District Association may but is not obligated to purchase additional endorsements or coverage, including by way of illustration but not limitation, directors and officers insurance, a fidelity bond, earthquake insurance.

(b) For those rare situations that may occur, such as dealing with a project that is terminated and distributions to lien holders and District Owners if the District is destroyed, the provisions of the Utah Community Association Act shall in all instances govern and control.

(c) If any provision of this Section is held to be (a) inconsistent, incongruent or in conflict with the insurance requirements as set forth in the Act or (b) illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under any present or future law, then that provision will be fully severable. This Section will be construed and enforced as if the (a) inconsistent, incongruent or in conflict with the insurance requirements as set forth in the Act or (b) illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part hereof, and the remaining provisions of this Section will remain in full force and effect and will not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance from this Section. Furthermore, in lieu of each such (a) inconsistent, incongruent or in conflict with the insurance requirements as set forth in the Act or (b) illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision, there will be added automatically, as a part of this Section, a provision as similar in terms to such (a) inconsistent, incongruent or in conflict with the insurance requirements as set forth in the Act or (b) illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid and enforceable.

9. Incorporation of Master Declaration. It is to be understood that this District Declaration is District to the Master Declaration, which is by reference made a part hereof, and all the terms, conditions, covenants, restrictions, and provisions thereof, unless specifically modified herein, are to apply to the District Property and are made a part of this District Declaration as though they were expressly rewritten, incorporated, and included herein. 12. Covenants to Run with District Land. This District Declaration and all the provisions hereof shall constitute covenants to run with the District Land or equitable servitudes, as the case may be, and shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of District Association, all other signatories hereto, all parties who hereafter acquire any interest in a District Lot or in the Project, and their respective grantees, transferees, heirs, devisees, personal representative, successors, and assigns. Each Owner or occupant of a District Lot shall comply with, and all interests in all District Lots shall be subject to, the terms of this District Declaration and the provisions of any rules, regulations, agreements, instruments, supplements, amendments, and determinations contemplated by this District Declaration. By acquiring any interest in a District Lot in the Project, the party acquiring such interest consents to, and agrees to be bound by, each and every provision of this District Declaration. The Developer, District Association, Master District Association, District Board of Directors or an aggrieved Owner may bring an action to enforce the District Governing Documents, for injunctive relief or damages, including the recovery of a reasonable attorney's fee and costs, regardless of whether a lawsuit is filed.

13. Term. This District Declaration shall continue for a term of forty (40) years from its date of recordation. Thereafter, this District Declaration shall be automatically extended for successive periods of ten (10) years until a vote of greater than fifty percent (50.0%) of the Members determines that this District Declaration shall terminate.

14. District Mortgage Protection. Nothing herein contained, and no violation of these covenants, conditions and restrictions, shall invalidate or impair the lien of any District Mortgage or deed of trust, given in good faith and for value.

15. Registered Agent. The initial registered agent of the District Association is Christopher P. Gamvroulas. The initial registered office of the District Association is at _____.

16. Bylaws. The District Association shall be administered according to the Bylaws of the Master District Association, which are referred to and incorporated herein by this reference, and where the context requires any references to the Master District Association shall refer to the District Association and any reference to the Board of Delegates shall refer to the District Board of Directors.

17. Amendment. This District Declaration may be amended as follows:

17.1 By The Owners. Any amendment to this District Declaration shall require the affirmative written vote or consent of at least ninety percent (90%) of the Total Votes of the District Association cast either in person or by proxy at a meeting duly called for such purpose or otherwise approved in writing by such Owners without a meeting.

17.2 Accomplishment of Amendment. Any Amendment authorized pursuant to this Section shall be accomplished through the recordation in the Office of the County Recorder of an instrument executed by the District Association. In such instrument an officer of the District Association shall certify that the vote required by this Section for Amendment has occurred.

17.3 Initial District Declarant Right to Amend. The District Declarant alone may amend or terminate this District Declaration prior to the closing of a sale of the first District Lot.

17.4 Unilateral Right to Amend Under Certain Conditions. Notwithstanding anything contained in this District Declaration to the contrary, this District Declaration may be amended unilaterally at any time and from time to time by District Declarant if such Amendment is (i) necessary to correct typographical errors or inadvertent omissions; (ii) necessary to bring any provision hereof into compliance with any applicable governmental statute, rule, or regulation or judicial determination which shall be in conflict therewith; or (iii) reasonably necessary to enable any reputable title insurance company to issue title insurance coverage with respect to the District Lots subject to this District Declaration; provided, however, any such Amendment shall not materially adversely affect the title to any District Lot unless any such Owner shall consent thereto in writing.

17.5 District Declarant's Right to Amend Unilaterally Prior to Termination of District Declarant's Period of Control. Prior to the expiration of the District Declarant's Period of Control, District Declarant may unilaterally amend this District Declaration for any other purpose; provided, however, any such Amendment shall not materially adversely affect the substantive rights of any Owner hereunder, nor shall it adversely affect title to any property without the consent of the affected Owner.

Anything to the contrary notwithstanding, District Declarant reserves the unilateral right to amend all or any part of this Master Declaration to such extent and with such language as may be requested by a State Department of Real Estate (or similar agency), FHA, VA, the FHLMC or FNMA and to further amend to the extent requested by any other federal, state or local governmental agency which requests such an amendment as a condition precedent to such agency's approval of this District Declaration or approval of the sale of District Lots, or by any federally chartered lending institution as a condition precedent to lending funds upon the security of any District Lot, or any portions thereof. Any such amendment shall be effected by the recordation by District Declarant of an Amendment duly signed by the District Declarant, specifying the federal, state or local governmental agency or the federally chartered lending institution requesting the amendment and setting forth the amendatory language requested by such agency or institution. Recordation of such an Amendment shall be deemed conclusive proof of the agency's or institution's request for such an amendment, and such Amendment, when recorded, shall be binding upon all District Lots and all persons having an interest therein. It is the desire of District Declarant to retain control of the District Association and its activities during the anticipated period of planning and development. 17.7 Developer's Rights. No provision of this District Declaration reserving or granting to Developer the District Developmental Rights shall be amended without the prior express written consent of Developer, which consent may be withheld, conditioned or delayed for any reason or for no reason at Developer's sole and exclusive discretion.

17.8 Conflict With Master Declaration. No provision of the Master Declaration may be amended hereby either directly or indirectly.

18. Insurance. Nothing shall be done or kept in, on or about any District Lot or in the District Common Areas which may result in the cancellation of the insurance on the District Property or an increase in the rate of the insurance on the District Property, over what the District Board of Directors, but for such activity, would pay.

19. Laws. Nothing shall be done or kept in, on or about any District Lot or District Common Areas, or any part thereof, which would be a violation of any statute, rule, ordinance, regulation, permit or other validly imposed requirement of any governmental body.

20. Damage or Waste. No damage to, or waste of, the District Common Areas shall be committed by any Owner or resident, or their District Guests, visitors or invitees. 21. Nuisance. No Owner shall create or maintain or permit the creation or maintenance of a nuisance.

22. Enforcement. The District Board of Directors may exercise its business judgment in deciding whether to impose sanctions or pursue legal action against violators and shall consider common concerns when taking or deciding not to take formal action, such as a weak legal position, conflict with current law, technical violations, minor or collateral issue, and whether or not it is in District Association's best interests to pursue the matter and, if so, to what extent.

23. Default. A default of the Master Declaration shall be considered a material default of this District Declaration. A default of this District Declaration shall be considered a material default of the Master Declaration.

24. Conflict. In the event of any conflict, inconsistency or incongruity between the provisions of this District Declaration and the provisions of the Master Declaration, the latter shall in all respects govern and control.

A landscape design should meet the needs of the people who will use and maintain the area while incorporating the site's existing environmental conditions into the design. Water is a limiting resource in Utah, so designing the landscape to efficiently use water is important. Conserving water in the landscape can be accomplished by selecting low water use plants, designing and scheduling irrigation systems efficiently, grouping plants according to their water requirements, and using hardscaping materials (patios, stone paths, decks, etc.) appropriately to reduce the area requiring irrigation.

DEVELOPING A PLOT PLAN

Develop a plot plan of the area to be landscaped. This is simply a map of the building and lawn along with the location of existing structures, trees and shrubs, property lines, driveways, gardens, utility lines, contours of the land, or other possible limitations to the design. Use graph paper to prepare a scale map of the property and let each square represent a certain distance.

CONDUCTING A SITE ANALYSIS

Visit the site to look for the environmental assets and constraints that will influence the design. Take notes on such factors as seasonal effects of sun and shade, soil conditions, slopes, direction of winds, and views from various points on the site.

PLANNING THE DESIGN

Based on the environmental considerations found in the site analysis, decide where plants should be placed for optimum aesthetic value, screening of undesirable views, shade or windbreaks, and separation of areas of the yard. Consider the use of hardscaping materials such as patios, walks, screens, and lighting. These materials can enhance the design while reducing the amount of area that needs to be irrigated and maintained.

Conserving energy

Deciduous trees should be placed on the south, east and west sides of the building to take advantage of the potential benefits of summer shade and winter sun to heat or cool the building. Evergreens are good insulators but limit sunlight, so try to plant them on the north side of the building. In order to protect a home from cold and snow, use trees and shrubs as insulators or windbreaks along the building.

Conserving water

When choosing plants, identify their water requirements and group those with similar irrigation requirements in the same area or irrigation zone. This will help to more accurately meet plant water needs while conserving water. Zones can be separated into zone 0 (no irrigation), zone 1 (irrigate monthly), zone 2 (irrigate twice per month), zone 3 (irrigate weekly) and zone 4 (irrigate twice per week). Plants adapted to the dry conditions of Utah will survive with little or no water (zone 0). It is important to know the water requirements of the plants at the site to most efficiently meet these needs without wasting water. The watering zone designs will depend on the amount of water you wish to use for the landscape, how much money you can spend on landscape water, and what you wish to achieve aesthetically and environmentally.

SELECTING THE PLANT MATERIAL

Select plant materials that will most effectively achieve your design goals. When possible, use plant species that are adapted to the landscape environment—the soil, water, temperature, light, and pest conditions—to help minimize maintenance and water requirements. The following are some factors to consider when choosing plant materials.

Aesthetics

Choose plants based on height, width, shape, color, and form that will best help accomplish the design goals.

Function

Plants can be used to conserve energy or water (as discussed above) as well as to block undesirable views or noise (taller, more dense plant material), and control erosion on steep slopes (lower growing, ground covers).

Soils

Most plants do well under a range of soil conditions, however, many plants have an optimum pH range, salt tolerance level, and soil moisture requirement. In choosing plants for Utah, remember that most soils have an alkaline (high) pH and some have moderate to high salt levels. Consider a basic soil test to define soil conditions and identify soil problems or limitations before selecting plants.

Water

Since Utah receives a limited amount of annual rainfall, use plants that reflect this water situation. Select low water use plants and plants adapted to the region to increase their chances of survival and help conserve water. Also, try to incorporate smaller plants into the design, since they tend to have lower water requirements than larger plants. Consult your local nursery/greenhouse business or Utah State University County Extension Agent for information on low water use plants for your area.

Hardiness Zone

Plant hardiness zones in Utah range from 4-7. The hardiness zones were established by the USDA and are based on the minimum, annual survival temperatures for plants. Plants for hardiness Zone 4 can survive -20 to -30 °F, Zone 5 can survive -10 to -20 °F, Zone 6 can survive 0 to -10 °F and Zone 7 can survive 0 to 10 °F. However, micro-environments created by the plant's surroundings can also influence its hardiness for the region. Contact your local Utah State University County Extension Agent to learn the hardiness zone of your area.

PRINCIPLES OF DESIGN

There are several basic principles of design to consider when planning the landscape. Along with the ones listed below, remember the importance of simplicity and harmony in designing.

Balance—Balance can be symmetrical or asymmetrical. Symmetrical is a more formal style of design with materials on one side mirrored on the other. Asymmetrical balance can be achieved by using different elements to create a more informal equilibrium. This may require using a group of smaller shrubs to counterbalance a large tree on the opposite side.

Unity—Group plants to achieve a unifying effect in the landscape (usually in groups of 3, 5, or 7). Plants can be grouped according to color, texture, or form. However, some variety in color, plant material, hardscaping textures, etc., adds interest to the landscape.

Rhythm—Repetition of elements (colors, textures, plant form) in the landscape provides a feeling of continuity and helps lead the eye through the landscape.

Accent—Accent is also referred to as dominance. Balance and rhythm can help lead the eye through the design to the focal point (accent). Examples of focal points may be a building, large tree or bed of bright flowers in front of a row of green shrubs.

Designing a low water use landscape is an enjoyable experience that will provide you with a landscape that meets your expectations and also helps to conserve water and other resources. Using the design plans and principles outlined in this bulletin will help you to achieve the low water use landscape that you desire.

Bigtooth Maple (Acer grandidentatum)

In order to better market the water wise plants available in many Utah nurseries and garden centers, and to assist consumers in identifying these plants, a program to recognize desirable low water use species has been developed. Representatives from Utah State University Extension, Utah State University Center for Water Efficient Landscaping, the Utah Nursery and Landscape Association, Utah Division of Water Resources, Utah Botanical Center, Jordan Valley Water Conservancy District, Red Butte Gardens, U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, Salt Lake City Corporation, Sandy City, and the Utah Native Plant Society have worked together to organize a water wise list of ornamental trees, shrubs, herbaceous perennials, ornamental grasses, and ground covers. The plants on the list are (1) water conserving, (2) adapted to Utah arid climate and cold winters, (3) available in the industry, (4) relatively easy to maintain in the landscape and (5) have desirable landscape characteristics which remain desirable under limited water availability. The water wise designation suggests that, on average, the plants only need to be watered approximately once every two weeks after establishment and will still retain their aesthetic characteristics. More specific information on cultural requirements such as growth characteristics, USDA hardiness zones, soil preference, etc., can be found at www.waterwiseplants.utah.gov

Water-Wise Landscaping: Practical Turfgrass Areas

Kelly Kopp, Associate Professor and Extension Water Conservation and Turfgrass Specialist, Paul Johnson, Associate Professor, Plants, Soils and Biometeorology Department, and Loralie Cox

Of the seven guiding principles of water-wise landscaping (a.k.a. Xeriscaping™), the most controversial involves the use of turfgrass in the landscape. At times it has seemed that water-wise landscaping might not allow for the use of turfgrasses at all. In fact, water-wise landscaping recognizes turfgrass as an integral component of the landscape.

A water-wise landscape must meet the needs of the users, and if that means recreation space, turf is the best and often only appropriate ground cover.

Turfgrasses are a very practical surface for many urban landscapes, but sometimes it is used where the function isn't recreation. In these situations, more water conserving plant materials might be used.

The reason that turfgrass is mentioned specifically in water-wise landscaping guidelines is that there is great potential for over-irrigation of turfgrasses. Unlike other plants that exhibit the stresses of over-watering readily, turfgrass is able to withstand a great deal of over-irrigation without exhibiting signs of stress. In addition, as an herbaceous plant, turfgrass is often one of the first plants in the landscape to exhibit signs of drought stress. These facts coupled with a "more is always better" attitude toward landscape irrigation, predispose turfgrass areas to over-irrigation.

Benefits of Turfgrass

Turfgrass has some very specific benefits in the landscape. For example, it is the only landscape plant material that can withstand the stresses of traffic and mowing that are commonly applied to it. One can trample it, tear it, and mow it, and it grows back! It is also the most practical surface for many types of outdoor recreation. And mowed lawns are a standard component of many urban fire control strategies.

Turfgrass also provides many other environmental benefits. One such benefit is a reduction in the amount of surface runoff water. This is a key component to protecting water quality. An average golf course, for example, can absorb 4 million gallons of water during a 1-inch rainstorm. And a golf course or turf area can absorb far more than one inch of rain water without runoff, assuming it's not coming down too quickly. This is because a dense turf area can reduce runoff to virtually nothing. And when compared to a non-turf area (like a garden or agricultural field), grass areas can reduce runoff-induced soil erosion by up to 600 times (Whiting, et al., 2005).

Turfgrass also reduces environmental pollutants. It traps dust and pollen and controls wind erosion of soil. Turfgrass also moderates temperature levels, which can reduce the amount of energy used for home cooling in the summer months. The soil microbes associated with growing turfgrass also work to break down pollutants in the environment such as air contaminants washed out by rainstorms, pesticides, and pollen.

Turfgrass in the Water-Wise Landscape

Turfgrass can be a practical and beautiful component of a water-wise landscape. As a design component, turfgrass invites participation in the landscape while providing unity and simplicity (Welsh, 2001). When using turfgrass in a water-wise landscape, a few basic guidelines are helpful.

- Only use turfgrass in areas where it is functional. These areas may include play areas, areas receiving traffic, and areas needing temperature, noise, or dust mitigation. If the only time a turf area receives traffic is when it's mowed, perhaps a lower maintenance plant would work in that location.
- Consider choosing turfgrass species with lower water requirements. In Utah, certain varieties of the different turfgrass species perform better. These may be found at <http://extension.usu.edu/files/publications/Turfgrass.html>. This bulletin also discusses the characteristics and applications of commonly used turfgrass species in Utah.
- Consider using non-irrigated turfgrass areas. If the turfgrass is not performing a functional role, does it really need to be irrigated? Many turfgrasses can withstand considerable drought stress by entering dormancy (turning brown). When conditions improve, they will green up again.
- Do not plant turfgrass in narrow, small, or oddly shaped areas that are difficult to irrigate efficiently. In these types of locations, there are many other plants that are more practical choices.

- Hydrozoning in a water-wise landscape certainly applies to turfgrasses as well as other plants. Plan and design irrigation systems so that turfgrass areas are irrigated separately from other landscape plants. Also, become familiar with the actual water requirements of the turfgrass and don't exceed them.
- Use cultural practices that will improve turfgrass water use efficiency. For example, mowing at a height of 2 ½ or 3 inches will encourage deeper rooting and improved heat and drought tolerance. Proper fertilization will also support healthy turfgrass and allow it to withstand the stresses of heat and drought better. Returning grass clippings when mowing also helps to reduce evaporation of water from the soil surface.

When these guidelines are followed, turfgrass becomes an appropriate, practical, and beautiful component of the water-wise landscape.
